Hi Jason,

There was a recent application before the county to rezone certain parcels west of Fearington Village known as Fearington Preserve with a compact community designation. With a similar development name and the reference in the application to Fearington Village's waste treatment system, we've received several questions and wanted to share our response with you.

First, Fitch Creations, Inc., either in its capacity as the developer of Fearington Village or as the owner of Fearington Utilities, is not involved with this project. Second, Fearington Utilities' waste treatment plant is nearing capacity and for that reason cannot consider connecting to wastewater collection systems outside our service area, which is defined with the North Carolina Utilities Commission as being only Fearington Village. We are in the planning stages of upgrading the plant but this renovation will not increase treatment capacity.

If we can answer any questions please let us know.

Thank you,

Greg Fitch
