Action Requested:	See Recommendation
Attachments:	1. Redline Document

Introduction & Background:

From time to time the Chatham County Zoning ordinance needs to be updated in order to adapt to the changing needs of county residents. The changes shown in the attached redline document are meant to address the concerns of county staff and residents with regards to starting and operating in-home childcare centers, also known as family daycare centers. The redline document shows the new definitions that will be added to the Zoning Ordinance as well as the updates to the Table of Permitted Uses.

A few months ago, Planning staff met with representatives from the Chatham Partnership for Children, and they requested some changes to make it less complicated to start an in-home childcare facility.

The NC General Statutes defines Child Care (G.S. § 110-86) as a program or arrangement where three or more children less than 13 years old, who do not reside where the care is provided, receive care on a regular basis of at least once per week for more than four hours but less than 24 hours per day from persons other than their guardians or full-time custodians, or from persons not related to them by birth, marriage, or adoption. In-Home Childcare is defined as a childcare arrangement located in a residence where, at any one time, more than two (2) children, but less than nine (9) children, receive childcare.

Planning Staff is proposing two new definitions. An updated definition for childcare that incorporates the most recent language from state statutes and a new definition for in-home childcare - which is a childcare arrangement located in a residence where, at any one time, more than two children, but less than nine children receive childcare. Of the children present at any one time in a family childcare home, no more than five children shall be preschool-aged, including the operators own preschool-age children.

One use has been added to the table of uses and one use has been edited to show these uses as allowed by right. This means that when someone wants to start a home childcare business, their zoning approval will be administrative. They will still have to comply with all other county and state regulations.

Discussion & Analysis:

The Public Hearing was held at the Board of Commissioners meeting on September 18th and there were no comments from the public. However, the commissioners did have some questions about updated language. Specifically, if the proposed updates to the Zoning Ordinance were in line with what other counties and jurisdictions were doing.

Planning staff informed the commissioners that the new definitions proposed come from the statutory language for Childcare in North Carolina. Staff used information from the DHHS website and the Chatham Partnership for Children to formulate the new definitions. The biggest change is removing the requirements for a Special Use Permit. Day care centers and Family Care Homes located in principal residences will now be allowed by right in residential zoning districts if they meet all other requirements.

If the Planning Board thinks the request should be approved, the following consistency statement is provided for consideration.

The Request to amend the Zoning Ordinance is consistent with Plan Chatham, the adopted comprehensive plan, pursuant to Objective 9 Provide equitable access to high-quality education, housing, and access to community options for all; specifically providing diversity of education options (public, private, STEM, magnet) and support services.

Recommendation:

Discuss the request and provide a recommendation on the text amendment and a consistency statement to the Board of Commissioners.
